LUXE BOTANICAL GARDEN HOME IN DISTRICT 9

A rare new project in this matured prime district, Martin Modern is thoughtful modern design, featuring unrivalled accessibility, coddled in lush and spacious botanical park land. It represents the best of cosmopolitan living with all the privileged choices at its doorstep.

COSMOPOLITAN DISTRICT 9

The insightful and well-travelled among us know the value of having choices and having quick access to them. Time is precious, that is why very few locations in Singapore are as sought after as District 9. This district is bounded by Orchard Road, River Valley, and Robertson Quay. The Orchard Road area is the established shopping and lifestyle heart of Singapore, while the Robertson Quay area is packed with dining, theatre and gallery options.

District 9 is also minutes away from the Central Business District (CBD), financial district and the glittering pleasures of Marina Bay. Situated in District 9, Martin Modern residents will be presented with a lifestyle that will please both the discerning sophisticate and the smart investor.

LIVING AND BREATHING REAL LUXURY

Real luxury is having the indulgence of natural space in land-scarce Singapore. Martin Modern has generously utilized 80% of its land area to be developed and artfully designed into a unique botanical garden and arboretum of native flora.

More than 200 species of plants and 50 species of trees will form a lovely, enchanting, natural park that will embrace the two-towered development. Residents and their loved ones will be able to spend healthy quality time together strolling, jogging and doing yoga — without crowds — within their haven in the prime district. And when Martin Modern owners look out their windows each day, they will be greeted by a naturally lush and verdant vista that few developments can afford.

MARTIN MODERN SITE

CATCH THE REVITALISATION EARLY

Two factors make Martin Modern a not-to-be-missed opportunity: the up-coming revitalisation of the area, and the rare opportunity of a large plot in an established enclave.

NEW GROWTH, NEW POTENTIAL

Martin Modern is located within and surrounded by new areas of growth. Two new MRT lines will boost the connectivity of the area to the rest of Singapore. The Kim Seng and Outram precincts are set to be revitalised, while Robertson Quay continues to evolve into a popular and successful lifestyle enclave. Close by, the historic Civic District has been revitalised by the opening of the National Gallery, the fast-evolving Marina Bay and the new financial district. In addition, more transformation can be expected from the Kim Seng precinct all the way to Outram.

RARE FIND, GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Martin Modern sits amidst many established developments in this prime area — an area that is already nearly well-filled with luxury apartment projects (for good reason). As new plots for development are scarce here, and with all the new development and revitalisation in the horizon, the potential within this prime precinct is set to take flight again. Be among the first to spot the smart positioning and design of this development, and make sure you are in time to catch these limited and rare units.

BOOST TO CONNECTIVITY

It is a known fact that new accessibility invariably increases the value of properties. The upcoming Great World MRT station and the Fort Canning station will connect Martin Modern to most parts of Singapore. Together, these two lines will transform accessibility and are likely to enhance the value of properties within the already well-connected Robertson Quay precinct.

KIM SENG AND OUTRAM

The Kim Seng and Outram precincts are new developments within the River Valley belt, bringing hotels, shopping, offices and residences that will enhance the buzz and the value of the areas surrounding them.

SINGAPORE RIVER LIFESTYLE CORRIDOR

At varying, yet accessible, distances to Martin Modern, the Singapore River attractions of Boat Quay, Clarke Quay, and Robertson Quay form an important waterside entertainment and tourist corridor. Of the three quays, Robertson Quay is the largest one, with its cosmopolitan mix of lively cafes, restaurants, bars, galleries, and theatres, it also happens to be closest to Martin Modern.

EVERYTHING IMPORTANT WITHIN REACH

Every seasoned home buyer and investor knows that acquiring value is about location, location, location. Martin Modern has an unparalleled location, being close to the most important and exciting districts in Singapore, such as Orchard Road, the Civic District, the Central Business District (CBD) and Marina Bay. Such proximity brings with it convenience, time-saving, and an assurance that your property will keep its value well.

THE CBD FOR WORK AND WEALTH

Part of Singapore's Downtown Core, the CBD is Singapore's business and financial hub. It starts from Raffles Place along Shenton Way and Marina Bay, with the newest being GuocoLand's Tanjong Pagar Centre. Also Singapore's tallest building, Tanjong Pagar Centre has initiated a transformation of the district into a business and lifestyle hub in the CBD.

HUBS FOR HISTORY AND THE ARTS

The Civic District is home to Singapore's most important historic buildings. The Parliament House and Supreme Court are at the apex, with the old Supreme Court and the City Hall building now housing the National Gallery Singapore. Other buildings of historical significance in this area include the Asian Civilisations Museum, Victoria Theatre and Concert Hall, and The Arts House. Nearby, the Bras Basah/Bugis district is establishing itself as the centre for arts, design, and heritage.

ORCHARD ROAD TO SHOP AND SUP

Known the world over as one of the great, world-class shopping streets to visit, Orchard Road is synonymous with the best shopping, dining, and leisure Singapore has to offer. It is home to the biggest fashion brand names, departmental stores, and most well-appointed and popular malls in the country.

MARINA BAY FOR THE SOPHISTICATE

A few MRT stops and a boat ride away from Martin Modern, Marina Bay is the new, premium leisure extension of Singapore's financial and business district. The mixed-use area is filled with round-the-clock activities and branded boutiques. It is also the destination for international events like the Singapore F1 Grand Prix and the National Day Parade.

THE LUXURY OF CONNECTIVITY

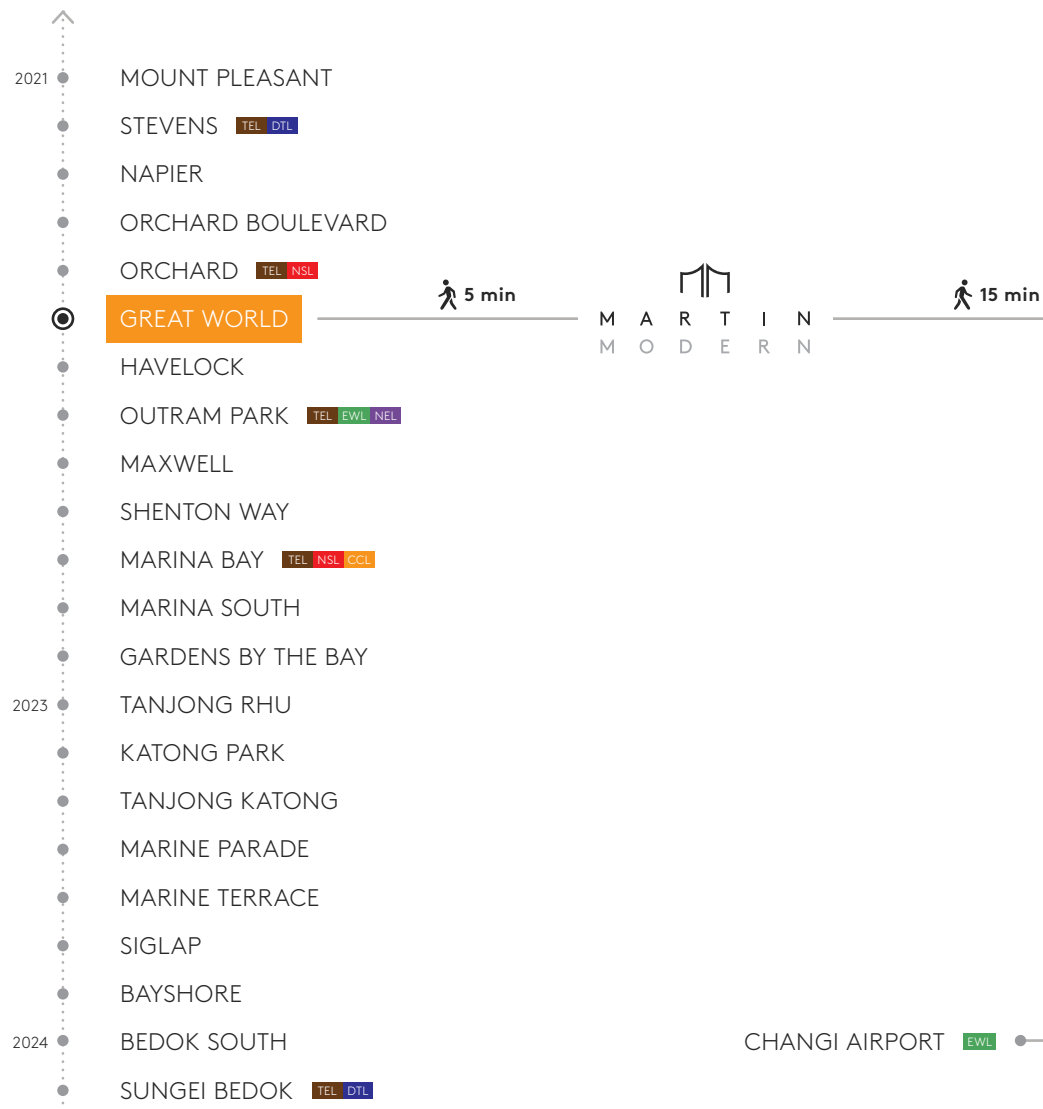

Martin Modern is well-connected to its surroundings and the rest of Singapore, by MRT, roads, walking paths, cycling paths, and river taxi services. The Martin Modern resident will have the luxury of choice for the most convenient modes of transport to get to any part of Singapore.

THE PRIVILEGE OF CONVENIENCE AND ACCESSIBILITY

Staying this close to MRT stations is a distinct privilege for those with foresight. The upcoming Thomson-East Coast and Downtown MRT lines will make this part of District 9 even more connected to the nearby attractions and to the rest of Singapore. From the Great World MRT station, Martin Modern is just one stop away from Orchard and three stops away from the CBD. The Fort Canning station will connect Martin Modern to Marina Bay and the Singapore Botanic Gardens and the many prestigious schools in Bukit Timah. Martin Modern will add immeasurable convenience and ease to the daily lives of its residents.

CHILL AT THIS QUAYSIDE NEIGHBOURHOOD

Robertson Quay presents the ideal District 9 residential enclave within the city. Martin Modern residents can wine, dine, catch plays or art shows all year round in this neighbourhood. And while the Quay is just mere minutes from the CBD, it still emanates a leafy, tranquil and chilled vibe for the work weary visitor.

HIP, HAPPENING AND LAID BACK

Being hip and happening — and yet laid back and cool — is a balance that Robertson Quay has successfully achieved. It is filled to the brim with things to do, from checking out that new wine bistro or edgy concept restaurant, to taking a leisurely stroll along the riverside with a special someone, to watching the latest plays and relaxing over drinks at one of the many cafes in the vicinity. This enclave has something for every well-heeled connoisseur or culture consumer.

NEW NEARBY DEVELOPMENTS BRING VALUE

While it is true that land-scarce Singapore is always developing, it is the quality and the prestigious vibe of nearby developments that bring value to an acquisition. In this regard, Martin Modern stands amidst great company.

CREATING PLACES THAT TRANSCEND TIME

GuocoLand thoughtfully creates — in concert with its hand-picked, best-of-breed, unique talents — contemporary homes that serve as the setting for a privileged modern life. These abodes are places that are welcoming, liveable, comfortable, and timeless. These very qualities have become the distinguishing hallmarks of the GuocoLand brand. The company's recent successful launches, including Goodwood Residence, Leedon Residence, and Wallich Residence at Tanjong Pagar Centre, expound a sensible, sensitive, and elevated way of life — one of refinement, sophistication, and understated modern luxury.

GOODWOOD RESIDENCE

District 10, Singapore

Designed by WOHA Architects for the most discerning of homeowners, Goodwood Residence ushers in a new benchmark in sophisticated luxury. The lush development is nestled in the quiet, green surrounds of Goodwood Hill, just off Orchard and Scotts Road. The shared boundary of approximately 150 metres with Goodwood Hill allows residents to live next to almost 20 hectares of greenery — a rarity in urbanised Singapore.
